Flat stage passable both on foot and by bicycle and suitable for everyone: sportsmen, families, children with strollers, joëlette.

This stage is completely flat, easy and suitable for everyone. From Torri di Fraele you descend along two switchbacks on the Cancano road and then take the Decauville (Trail No. N195) on the right, a dirt road that leads to Arnoga. On this route you can see beautiful alpine pastures and fir forests between the mouth of Val Vezzola and Val di Foscagno. In the distance, the Cima Piazzzi glacier and views of Bormio and Valdidentro will accompany you along the way. This stage is characterized by the absence of support and refreshment points along the route. It is therefore recommended to equip yourself with water and snacks appropriate for the length of the route especially if there are children. In Arnoga it is possible to return to Bormio by public transport service with buses on the Bormio - Livigno route.

Author's recommendation

From the Fraele Towers, we travel along the scenic Decauville, named after the French engineer who invented a narrow gauge railway particularly suited to the uncomfortable mountainous areas, which in the past was used to transport material for the construction of the hydroelectric plant and the Cancano artificial dams, until we reach Arnoga.
